BACKGROUND

China International Mobile Phone Industry Exhibition (CME), held twice a year with one in Shanghai in July and the other in Shenzhen in November since 2001, has come to be the top cell phone industry show in Asia . With the rapid development of the Chinese mobile phone industry, CME is enjoying an annual growth rate of over 30% by average for a couple of years. More and more companies consider CME one of the most wanted annual Industry Event in world wide scope and many of them would find it a most important sourcing platform .

As the biggest mobile phone expo in Asia, it represents the mainstream direction of the industry and has built a huge exchange & transaction platform for companies domestic and abroad. It serves as a bridge to help domestic manufacturers to “go abroad” and bring overseas companies to buy into China market.

By showcasing the state-of-art technology and know-how of mobile phone industry , CME offer you the best chance to catch the novel conception of the Industry and make you accessed by your potential clients in a simple but effective way. Shanghai Kuozhan Exhibition service, as the only hosting company and founder of this event, is always doing her best to assure all the participants a successful and fruitful Gala in Mobile phone Industry.
